Suppliers are expected to take action across our focus areas: Human rights, Health & safety, Environment and sustainability, Anti – bribery & Corruption and Diversity, equity & inclusion

This charter is applicable to all suppliers across Norton Rose Fulbright's portfolio

We reserve the right to undertake due diligence and/or risk assessments to verify compliance with the above principles and expect our suppliers to cooperate and provide supporting evidence as we may reasonably require to monitor and review their compliance. We look forward to working with you.

About Norton Rose Fulbright

We provide the world's preeminent corporations and financial institutions with a full business law service. We have more than 3,000 lawyers and other legal staff based in Europe, the United States, Canada, Latin America, Asia, Australia, Africa and the Middle East.

Recognized for our industry focus, we are strong across all the key industry sectors: financial institutions; energy and environment; infrastructure, mining and commodities; transport; technology and innovation; and life sciences and healthcare. Through our global risk advisory group, we leverage our industry experience with our knowledge of legal, regulatory, compliance and governance issues to provide our clients with practical solutions to the legal and regulatory risks facing their businesses.

Norton Rose Fulbright Verein, a Swiss verein, helps coordinate the activities of Norton Rose Fulbright members but does not itself provide legal services to clients. Norton Rose Fulbright has offices in more than 50 cities worldwide, including London, Houston, New York, Toronto, Mexico City, Hong Kong, Sydney and Johannesburg.

Norton Rose Fulbright values

Quality

The business principles of Norton Rose Fulbright are based around quality, unity and integrity. They apply to all our activities and staff world-wide and describe our culture and personality both internally and externally, the way we work and what we stand for. By conducting ourselves in accordance with our business principles, we stay true to this commitment and maintain the trust that our clients place in us.

We focus on providing consistently high-quality legal services to clients from a united, global perspective, delivering work that meets the highest professional, ethical and business standards.

Unity

We seek to operate our services as sustainably as possible and to meet our sustainability and responsible business objectives. We also dedicate our skills, time and resources through partnership with local organisations, charities and NGO's, to deliver positive outcomes to underrepresented groups, our environment and our communities.

We are committed to the open and transparent communication of our objectives and initiatives and our performance against our targets to our people.

Integrity

We are committed to using only those suppliers whose principles match our own. Our suppliers are therefore required to comply with all applicable laws and, in all cases, to meet the standards and principles set out in this document across all areas of their business. Compliance with such laws standards and principles is a material consideration for us in assessing every aspect of our supplier relationships.

Human rights

As providers of legal services, we have a responsibility to uphold the rule of law and respect human rights. Our focus is on providing consistently high-quality legal services to clients from a united, global perspective and delivering work that meets the highest professional, ethical and business standards

Suppliers must conduct their business activities in a manner which respects human rights as set out in the UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the core conventions of the International Labour Organization and must not hold another person in slavery or servitude, employ, engage or otherwise use forced or compulsory labour, trafficked labour or child labour; nor engage in or condone the use of corporal punishments or mentally, physically or sexually abusive or inhumane treatment of workers.

Our suppliers, whether directly or through their supply chain, must comply with all applicable human rights related laws in respect of their employees.

Anti Bribery and corruption

We have a zero-tolerance approach to bribery and corruption. Our commitment to maintaining and promoting the highest business, ethical and professional standards is enshrined in our core business principles of quality, unity and integrity.

Our Global Practice Standards (GPS), developed by our global management team ensures that our behaviour always conforms with our business principles. Our GPS promote a culture of openness and trustworthiness, and one in which acts of bribery or corruption are never acceptable. Our GPS aim to ensure no region, partner, employee or consultant within Norton Rose Fulbright is implicated in allegations of corrupt activity.

Our suppliers must comply with all applicable laws – including, where relevant:

- the UK Bribery Act 2010;
 - the UK Criminal Finances Act 2017;
 - the US Foreign Corrupt Practices Act 1977;
 - the Canadian Corruption of Foreign Public Officials Act (as amended) 1998); and
 - the Australian Criminal Code Act 1995 (Cth) relating to the prevention of bribery, corruption, fraud, tax evasion or similar or related activities

Environment and sustainability

Norton Rose Fulbright is committed to operating sustainably and taking direct action to support and integrate all applicable United Nations Sustainable Development Goals. We are signatories to the Science Based Targets initiative and the UN Global Compact.

We recognise that, as global firm operating from multiple jurisdictions, the way in which we operate has an impact on the environment and we are committed to integrating sustainability best practice into our decision-making and business activities.

We also recognise that our environmental performance is important to our people, our clients, our suppliers and other stakeholders. Our key impacts arise from our supply chain, business travel, waste generation, energy use and resource consumption. We are seeking to minimise these impacts through continual improvement in our environmental performance in all jurisdictions where we operate.

We are looking to forge strong partnerships with our suppliers and service providers, who can demonstrate they have the ability support us to operate sustainably including but not limited to the following areas:

- reducing carbon emissions;
- minimising the use of resources;
- waste reduction.

As a minimum, our suppliers must comply with all applicable environmental laws and continually strive to improve and report upon their sustainability performance, focusing on reduction of carbon emissions, waste, water and natural resources consumption. We ask our suppliers, where possible to report and provide variable data in connection with the above upon request.

Health and safety

We strive to provide and maintain a safe and healthy working environment for all employees, visitors, contractors and any other people associated with our work and operate in accordance with health and safety legislation across all the jurisdictions we operate in.

Our suppliers must comply with all applicable health and safety laws and aim to create a safe working environment for its employees, and anyone else affected by their businesses, this also includes product safety.

Diversity, equity and inclusion

We strive to create an inclusive environment where everyone can bring their whole self to work and realize their career potential. This commitment is integral to our approach to doing business: it enables us to understand our clients' needs in diverse markets, engage fully with the communities in which we operate and leverage the diversity of perspective of our people. We value difference and actively promote a culture of respect for everyone, encouraging and creating inclusion.

Our vision is to position Norton Rose Fulbright as a leader in diversity, equity and inclusion and as an employer of choice worldwide. By embracing a diversity of views and experience, we attract and retain the best talent and provide our clients with the most considered and innovative advice.

We take an inclusive approach to diversity including initiatives encompassing gender, race, age, religion and belief, sexual orientation, gender expression, disability and social inclusion. Our diversity and inclusion strategy has a particular focus on leadership, the partnership pipeline, innovative work practices and partnering with our clients.
